*The Class of 1953
presents
a record of our days at Newton College

Sacred Heart
Newton,

VBI CARITAS ET AMOR DEVS IBI EST

The years at Newton College have filled us with that joy and love of truth which the founders of Newton have tried so hard to make a part of our life. In gratitude and love we dedicate this account of our college days to

Mother Eleanor Kenny,

*President of Newton, who has, from the very first, loved,
and planned for, and shaped the college.*

*The class of 1952 become
B.A.'s and leave us SENIORS.*

7.15 We start the day at 7.15 Mass in our tiny chapel. On First Fridays we are more formal.

Not only on First Fridays, but on all Fridays, we have exposition of the Blessed Sacrament.

8.50 The warning buzzer! But there's still time—for Seniors who have learned how—to make a dignified and unhurried entrance to the first class.

Meanwhile, our faculty members, who also have learned the uses of leisure, chat quietly in the faculty room or make a few last minute arrangements in the Dean's office.

9.10 While Father Dittoe, putting a few finishing touches on our four years' study of St. Thomas, expounds the order of the universe, a junior contemplates the problem of order on a lower scale.

10.00 is Assembly time. Occasionally, a class meeting takes place, when important matters come up for discussion.

JUNIOR CLASS OFFICERS

DOROTHY ENGLERT, Vice-President; HELEN BADENHAUSEN, President; MARY HELEN FITZGERALD, Secretary; LUCILLE JOY, Treasurer.

THE JUNIORS:

The capable leadership shown in all the Junior Class Officers, during their three years here at Newton, makes us happy to have them as our successors for next year. Junior year is one of great change—from the ranking of a lower-classman to that of an upper-classman. It includes great plans, for productions such as Junior Weekend, and the beginnings of real responsibility.

Seated, V. Yawman, M. H. FitzGerald, H. Badenhausen, J. Curran, D. Englert.*

*L. to R.; Standing, C. McKinney, M. J. Farley.
Seated, J. Garnjost, D. Killion, J. Baxter, D. Vanceek, J. Fitz-Gerald, M. Evans, P. Murray,

FRANCES JOHNSTON, Vice-President; GAIL ENNIS, President; WINIFRED WEBER, Treasurer; CAROLYN MORGAN, Secretary.

THE SOPHOMORES:

In Sophomore year one grows very serious, and studies become of prime importance. This is evident as the Sophomore Class sits up on second floor Stuart, outside the Dean's office—first of all, contemplating a heavy schedule, and later on, wondering if or how they ever made it—the average, that is. The Sophomores have their lighter side also, as we have seen by the zest and cooperation of our little sisters in all the extra-curricular productions we have undertaken.

L. to R.: Front row, J. Costello, M. Chisholm, Y. Ohashi, B. A. Reilly, J. Quigley; Second row, D. Haider, J. Comba, L. McGrady, P. Donovan, S. Asselin, P. Leclaire, A. Sperry, M. Kirkpatrick; Back row, C. Morgan, P. Byrne, C. Arango, N. Wolanyk, N. Parchment, D. Skudsinskaite, F. Johnston, G. Ennis.

L. to R.: Front row, K. Shiobara, B. Castro, M. C. Herrera, M. G. Santini; Second row, M. Nolan, M. Contelli, M. J. Moyles, C. Bacciocco, M. Gebhart, J. Trainor, H. Sullivan, M. T. Jugeat, W. Weber; Standing, C. Quinlan, E. Welch.

FRESHMAN CLASS OFFICERS

AILEEN MANNIX, Treasurer; MARY ELLEN McKEON, President; MARY CURRAN, Vice-President; SHEILA McCARTHY, Secretary.

THE FRESHMEN:

The Freshman year is spent getting used to everything, and learning all the ins and outs of college life. The officers here catch up on college activities by reading "885", the college newspaper just inaugurated this year. The rest of the class is seated in the famous "bird-cage room", or "checkerboard room" in Barat. The room has gone through many phases of use—as a dining-room, a classroom, a study room; and we all look forward to the day when the building program is complete and it will be a parlor—and one of the most pleasant ones on campus!

L. to R.: Standing, E. Dempsey, S. McCarthy, K. Galvin, U. Cahalan, M. E. Garrity, M. Johnson, I. Evans, S. McCue, G. Llaguno, M. DiMento, E. Melloon; Seated, C. de Francisco, J. Slade, S. Spencer, M. Nichols, J. Dillon, C. Brennan, M. E. McKeon, M. Linehan, A. Mannix, J. Wallace.

L. to R.: Standing, A. C. Cullom, L. Hartigan, S. Murphy, M. Curran; Seated, A. Rawson, G. O'Donnell, M. Blinstitub, L. Gomez, S. Statis, M. F. Whalen, C. Gillis, M. Libouquette, G. Costa, M. Prendergast.

11.30 While in the Assembly Hall one of Mrs. Balling's pupils proves she practised. Mr. Ebacher, in the little Barat library, discourses on French literature to a small group.

At the same time, less energetic souls relax between classes, and two studious seniors catch up on their assignments in the Reference Room in Duchesne.

12.30 From different parts of the campus we converge on Stuart for luncheon. Oh, for that large, beautiful dining room which those who come after us will enjoy when Stuart is completed! After luncheon we are off for a pleasant drive. Anyone want anything in the Centre?

12.50 is meeting time.

CATHOLIC ACTION GROUPS

CATHOLIC ACTION OFFICERS

L. to R.: C. Morgan (Treas.),
F. Mannix (Pres.), C. Hickey
(Vice-Pres.).
Absent: E. Higgins (Sec'ty).

INTERRACIAL CLUB OFFICERS

L. to R.: F. Johnston (Sec'y-Treas.), P. Hollan (Pres.), J. Baxter (Vice-Pres.).

MISSION CLUB OFFICERS

L. to R.: J. Garnjost (Sec'ty),
C. McKinney (Pres.), A. Hanrahan (Treas.).

L. to R.: Standing, S. McCarthy, C. Morgan, A. O'Brien, G. Conley, N. Lane (Chairman), J. Curran, W. Weber, M. H. FitzGerald; Seated, L. Joy, A. Mannix, Mother Keyes, N. Dolan.

The Social Committee meets at this time on Monday, and makes plans to fill the social calendar with everything from balls to barn dances. And occasionally, other little things come up—like the question of that person who forgot to dress for dinner!

At Student Government meetings at the same time on Wednesday, our elected representatives discuss the pros and cons of the constitution, consider new by-laws, or the improvement of old ones, and mete out punishment to the rare offender.

L. to R.: Standing, F. Johnston, M. E. McKeon, D. Englert. Seated, H. Badenhausen, G. Conley (Pres.), J. Hartford.

1.30 Whether it's hockey, basketball, volleyball, badminton or archery, it's always fun.

HOCKEY TEAM

*L. to R.: Top, E. Welch, B. Powell, W. Weber.
Middle, A. Fulton, C. Quinlan.
Bottom, J. Hartford (Captain), D. Killion.*

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION OFFICERS

*Below, L. to R.: J. Hartford (Pres.), E. Welch (Sect'y).
Absent, N. Hurley (Vice-Pres.), H. W. Sperly (Treas.).*

The Athletic Association sees that we get more exercise than just walking back and forth from Duchesne. It keeps our hockey and basketball teams on their toes, and arranges games with other colleges, such as Regis, Emmanuel, and Boston College Nursing School.

2.30 About this time we may decide to take a trip down to Duchesne, perhaps to pick up that reserve book. If it's Friday, we will probably meet some of our classmates packing the car to leave for the weekend.

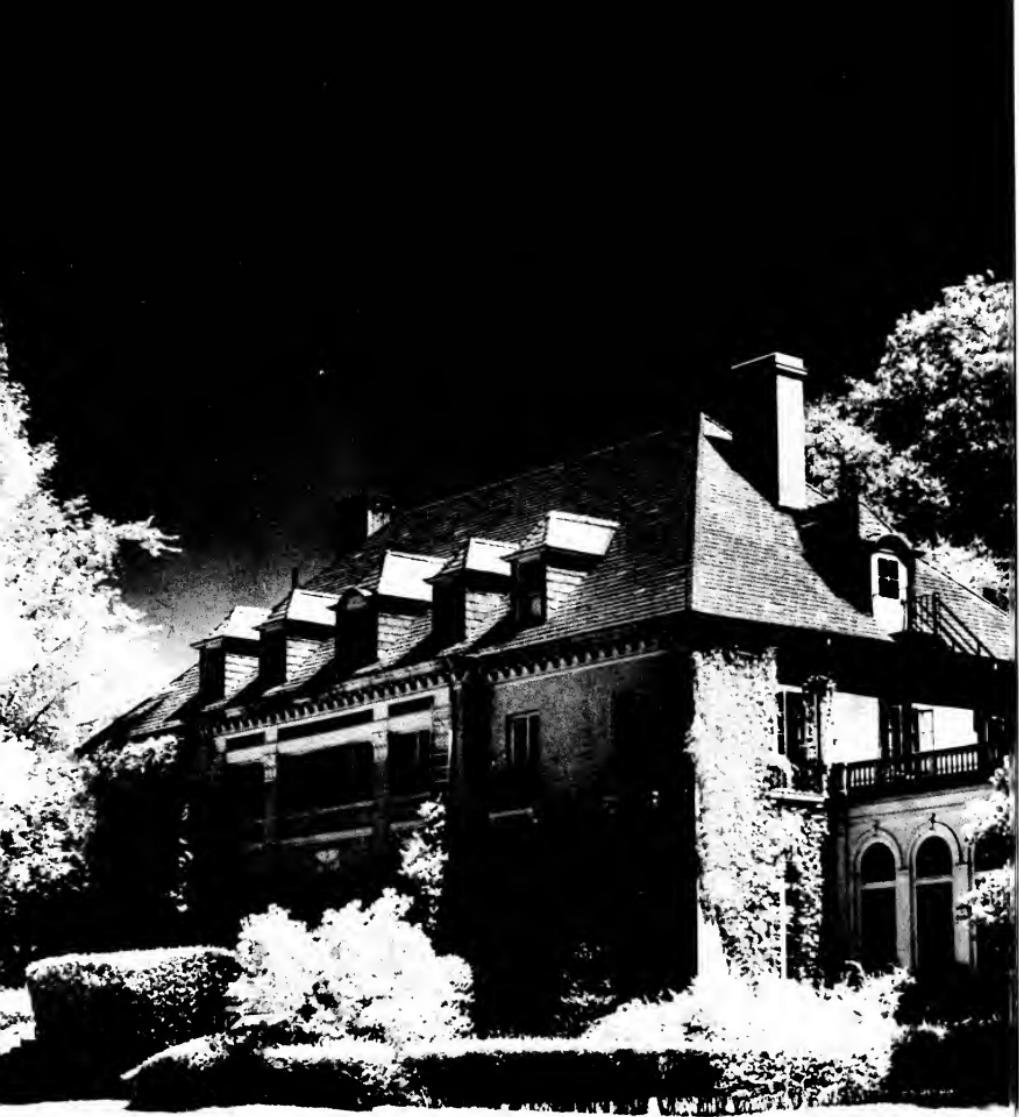

On our way, we pass through the parking lot, where some other cars—notably the venerable Packard—are standing ready for any emergency.

3.30 We may stop by the Tea House to pick up the latest gossip, have a smoke, or try our luck at a hand of bridge.

The tea-house began its career as a garage, and after going through a series of changes, is now the special charge of the Duchesne boarders. One of the most enjoyable events of the year was the tea-house party to raise funds for its decoration.

4.30 The afternoon is getting on. A Senior pauses to offer a few words of wisdom to some Freshmen outside Du-chesne.

While, nearby, Miss Wheelwright's art class catches some sunset scenery.

SCIENCE CLUB OFFICERS

L. to R.: R. Mantautaite (Sec'y-Treas.), B. Powell (Pres.), G. Fisher (Vice-Pres.).

5.30 is meeting time for science enthusiasts. They meet once a month and plan scientific events of interest even to non-scientists. A movie on the Dupont family and a lecture on penicillin are some of their offerings to the student public.

"Child of Mary of the Sacred Heart, following the example of Our Lady, my mission is to carry out the plans of His Heart for me and to help Him reveal Himself to the world."

—THE PROMISE OF A CHILD OF MARY

N.S.A. AND N.F.C.C.S. DELEGATES

L. to R.: F. Mannix (N.F.C.C.S.),
J. Baxter (N.F.C.C.S.), F. Connelly (N.F.C.C.S.), J. Curran (N.S.A.), P. Byrne (N.S.A.).

Newton is well represented in the N.S.A. and N.F.C.C.S. organizations. Newton delegates attend meetings elsewhere, and keep the student body posted on student activities throughout the country.

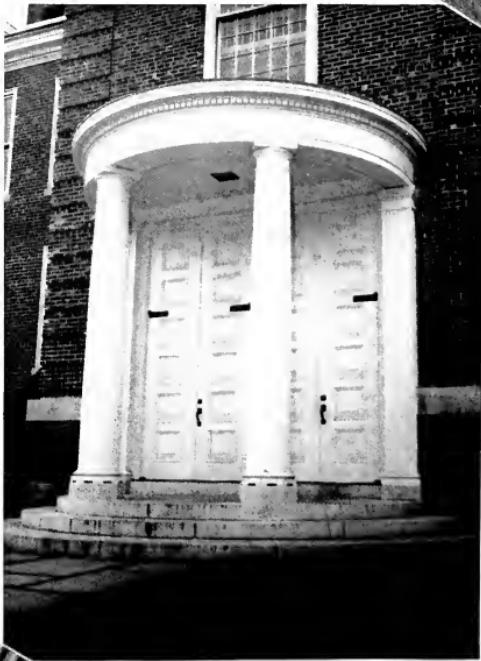

To widen the scope of our activities further, the International Relations Club seeks to foster deeper understanding among nations.

I.R.C. OFFICERS

L. to R.: A. O'Brien (Pres.), P. Byrne (Treas.), V. Bueno (Vice-Pres.), J. Baxter (Sec'y).

6.30 Dinner time! Our cheerful young nurses are on their way to Stuart.

Inside, they meet Patrick, Michael, and Frederick, who are happily on their way to their own homes for dinner.

"The rest are mine" . . .

"Let's play it out." . . .

"DOWN ONE!"

After dinner, "you have to cut your way through the smoker", for a cigarette, a conversation, or a bridge game. "Where are the ash trays?"

Or there may be an I.R.C. panel discussion, or a barn dance or other informal party going on; so we migrate to the lounge or the playhouse.

7.30 is lecture time. Father Louis Dowd, S.J., veteran of many years on the Chinese missions, stirred us all with his account of young Chinese Catholics under Communist rule.

After dinner is also the busiest time on the telephone wires. As the switchbird tries to relax while handling three calls at once, those who "can't wait" form a line outside the telephone booth to make out-going calls.

NEWTONES

At least one evening a week is devoted by some to music or dramatics. The Newtones, our double quartette, and the small choir, practise in Stuart, but the Glee Club and Dramatic Club take the steep staircase down to the Playhouse.

CHOIR

The Glee Club is the Major Club for music lovers. Energetic and ambitious, they produced the opera, Cosi Fan Tutti, in spring of last year.

GLEE CLUB OFFICERS

Seated, A. Berry, (Pres.).

DRAMATIC CLUB OFFICERS

L. to R.: J. Curran (Treas.),
N. Dolan (Pres.), C. Quinlan
(Secty), P. Hollar (Vice-Pres.).

A small but hardworking group, the Dramatic Club includes Jacks (or Jills?) of all trades: dressmakers, scene designers, electrical engineers, as well as actors. Last year they produced The Rivals. This year they are adding Shakespeare's Much Ado about Nothing.

No wonder the Dramatic Club sometimes feel they are going around in circles!

After a long evening of synchronizing the "firsts" and "seconds" for the Glee Club, and of getting Act II to follow Act I for the Dramatic Club, we all climb wearily up the stairs to bed; in Hardey House, perhaps, which is the only purely dormitory building.

8.30 It's nearly bedtime, but the editors, business managers, and roving reporters of Newton's publications are still working. The staff of Wheat and Cockle, our literary magazine, is collecting, criticizing, and editing original writing of Newtonians, while the staff of our newspaper, "885", applies much the same technique to reports of the news of the day.

"885" STAFF

WHEAT AND COCKLE STAFF

Left, L. to R.: P. Murray, S. L. Whelan (Editor), C. Canniff, P. Hollar, J. Curran.

When the class of 1952 solemnly processed past us with graduation hoods and diplomas, we suddenly realized that we were Seniors. We determined to make the last year the best. And as we lived that last year, we watched the three lower classes go through the same experiences we had had; in a sense, we re-lived our first three years in them. Here are some of this year's Freshman, Sophomore, and Junior Classes, and some of the Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors that we used to be.

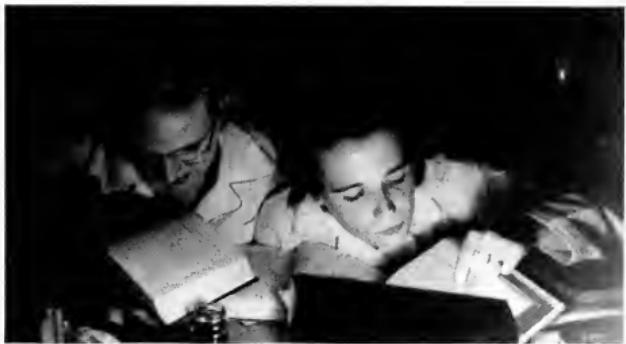

It's only natural that Freshmen should have lots of time to be frivolous!

But we made sure that they were sobered up at hazing time!

The Freshmen who invaded Newton's campus in September 1952 were not so very different from those who had come in 1949. We began our college life with a hilarious baby party (in appropriate dress). After being properly hazed, we settled down to a year of carrying chairs, cleaning the smoker, and wearing white dresses for all formal occasions. There weren't enough hours in the day for all the things we wanted to do, and at night, of course, we burned the midnight oil poring over Grenier—or maybe celebrating Arab night! There were picnics and tea-dances, "piyama parties" and bridge games in the smoker, mysterious lights shining in Stuart, and unexplained phones ringing in Barat. It was an unforgettable year!

This year's Sophomores suffered the same growing pains we did, but, like us, they seem to have come through unharmed—and even to have enjoyed the year. In spite of the traditionally heavy schedule, there always seemed to be time for proms and parties, week-ends at North Conway, and taking part in Glee Club and Dramatic Club productions—besides a short trip now and then to the Newton Corner movie, or to the Deli!

Our Sophomore year was marked by variety too. We became studious—and by the end of the year we had mastered the world's great books, pondered over Thomistic cosmology, and calculated the time in the middle of the Pacific when it was noon in Greenwich. When we finally won our caps and gowns, we didn't take them off all day. But we had other interests—ski week-ends, Hansel and Gretel, and Mary of Scotland—to mention only a few. And in June, many of us made a trip west for our class's first wedding.

This year's Juniors reminded us of our own Junior year, not far in the past, when we took on new responsibilities, strained our brains over the Brannon plan, and called forth all our energies for that production of productions—Junior Weekend.

As we danced at their Junior Weekend we couldn't help recalling our own, when we practically lived for weeks in the quonset cutting out decorations. We had some moments of fear that we might go into debt—but everything turned out well in the end. We thought nobody could ever equal our Junior Weekend—but this year's gave it some close competition!

The Graduation
Dance and the Alumnae Ball were wonderful successes, for more than just graduates and the alumnae.

And to us, they were also reminders that very soon
we will be graduates—and then, alumnae—ourselves.

The faculty practises on us, but here are the children that really count!

We would like to thank:

MOTHER MAGUIRE who shared the trials, the responsibilities, the fun involved in our every effort to produce this Yearbook. Her good-humored understanding converted even our disappointments to laughter.

MR. WAXLER of the Alfred Brown Studio whose skill at catching us at on and off moments has provided us with many remembrances of the serious and gay sides of college life.

THE HEFFERNAN PRESS whose experience of many yearbooks has saved us from the effects of our inexperience of any.

ANN WHITE whose artistic talent we could not do without.

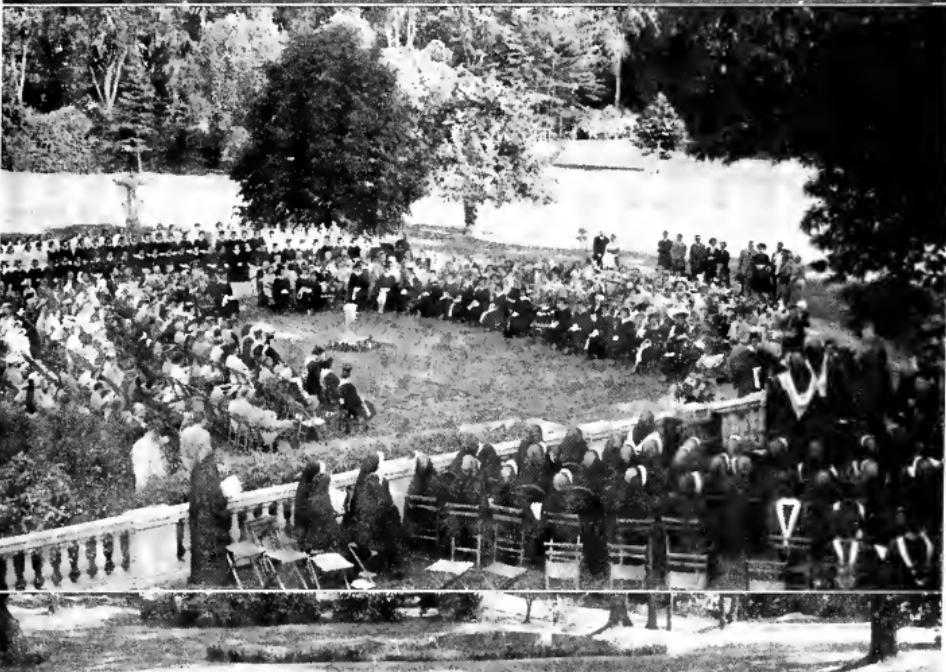

PHYLLIS HOLLAR who lent us her literary touch.

Gratefully,

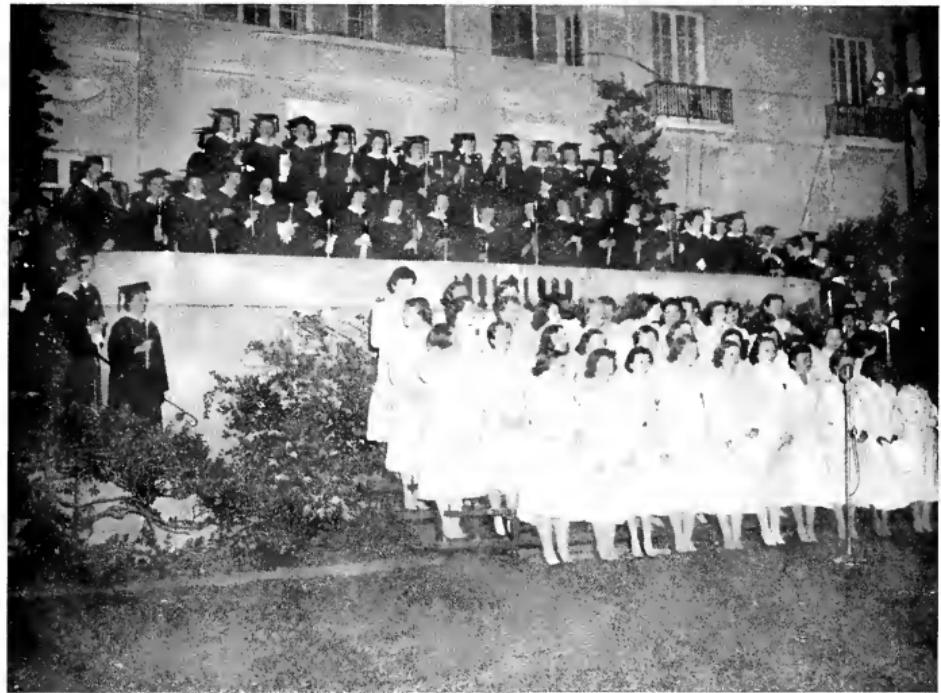

The Yearbook Staff.
